A Scalloped Delight

By Frances Lee Barton

SCALLOPED potatoes is a common hot dish that almost invariably pleases. Here is another scalloped dish that I am sure you will find delightful—just the thing for a dinner that must be prepared quickly but must be good enough to be placed before unexpected company without embarrassment.

Scalloped Cabbage and Ham

4 cups coarsely shredded cabbage; 3 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca; ½ teaspoon salt; ¼ teaspoon pepper; ½ teaspoon paprika; 2 cups milk; 2 tablespoons butter; ½ pound boiled ham, chopped; ½ cup fine bread crumbs, buttered.

Cook cabbage in boiling salted water 2 minutes; drain. Combine tapioca, salt, pepper, paprika, and milk in top of double boiler. Place over rapidly boiling water and cook 8 to 10 minutes after water boils again, stirring frequently. Add butter. Place layer of tapioca mixture in greased baking dish, then layer of cabbage and ham; repeat, finishing with layer of tapioca mixture. Cover with crumbs. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 20 minutes, or until crumbs are browned. Serves 4 to 6.

Paprika

Paprika is rich in food value, containing vitamin C.

Now At Daly City Theatre

Stars of the new 20th Century-Fox hit, "Swamp Water," veterans Walter Brennan and Walter Huston talk things over. Featured with them in the film located in Georgia's dread Okefenokee swamp, are newcomers Anne Baxter and Dana Andrews. The picture has received "rave" reviews, and is scheduled for tonight and Saturday at the Daly City theatre.

Third Eyelid

Most birds have a third eyelid, known as the nictitating membrane, which serves to cover and clean the surface of the eye, reports the Better Vision institute. It also is well-developed in cats, cows and rabbits. In the human eye there is a vestigial bit of such membrane under the red glandular swelling in the corner of the eye.

My Week

PARENTS' RESPONSIBILITY

In the current issue of Parent's Magazine, they give their second annual report on the nation's children. There is a general recognition of the grave responsibility of providing our children, in this war crisis, with the services necessary to preserve for them in the future, the things for which we today are fighting.

The four freedoms will not mean much to them, if they are told that we have preserved them for them, unless they are able to use those four freedoms. You can not be a citizen in a democracy and feel confidence in your own ability to meet the future, unless in your childhood, the basic needs of every child are met, regardless of war conditions.

The carrying out of this program to achieve this end, lies largely in the hands of the children's bureau, and the different health and welfare projects under Administrator McNutt. But, I think it is the responsibility of the Office of Civilian Defense to see that the needs are recognized. They must have the backing of people in every community so that the defense councils will recognize the importance of meeting them.

Such magazines as Parent's Magazine can do a great deal to bring before the public the needs of the children and the responsibility of the public towards those needs. I hope that many other magazines and publications will also recognize this responsibility.

I must tell you that the pageant on the contribution of the Negro people to the history of the United States, as given last night in the performance called "Salute to Negro Troops," presented by the stage, screen and radio division of the Fight for Freedom Inc., was most moving and thrilling. Any citizen of the United States must have been proud when Washington, Jefferson, Jackson and Lincoln, each came on the stage and spoke their own message to their people, who loved democracy and liberty.

It carried into one's heart an emotion, which must translate itself into a greater devotion to accept the challenge of this war, and to make of this nation the example which the founding fathers envisioned, but which we have never completely carried out.

4-H CLUB INTEREST

I spent two hours at the office one morning and at 11 o'clock went down to meet with a group of the agriculture department extension people working on the 4-H club program. They told me what they had developed for their victory work in rural areas and assured me that they would co-operate in the OCD youth activities program in every possible way.

Then we discussed how best the Office of Civilian Defense could help them to carry out a program, which would not only make the community strong now, but leave it stronger at the end of the war to meet post-war problems.

VICTORY BOOK DRIVE

The Victory Book campaign has started. This is a "nation-wide campaign to collect reading materials for many needs, arising from the national defense and war program." Miss Althea Warren has been given four months leave of absence from the Los Angeles public library to direct this campaign and she has her offices with the U.S.O. in the Empire State building in New York city. Good books of every kind are needed for the U.S.O. reading rooms.

Each club house, of which there are now 400, with many more contemplated, will have space for from 500 to 2,000 volumes. There are state directors in practically every state and your state librarian can give you the address of the special directors appointed for these collections. If you do not know where to write in your state, write to Miss building, New York city, and she will tell you where to send your books.

BLIND PERSONS HELP

It is a wonderful thing to feel that in this emergency everyone wants to help. I was glad to hear that the New York Association for the Blind is starting a course for volunteers. The course is designed to train volunteer workers for service with the blind.

It will make it possible for them to help the blind to adjust to war conditions, which make even the ordinary occurrences of life more difficult. If you attend one of these courses and learn what modern procedures and policies are in New York city, you can be helpful in your own home town when you return there.

'SAVE THE CHILDREN'

One morning, at the Office of Civilian Defense, I met with some 25 people who are working largely in the mountain areas for the Save the Children fund. They work, as far as possible, with the existing agencies and one of their main activities is to salvage desks from schools that are being remodeled and to provide them for the smaller schools where no desks have been available in the past.

In addition, they provide shoes and clothing for children who would otherwise be out of school.

Spicy FRUITED MEAT LOAF

says Dorothy Greig

SOME day when meat loaf is on the schedule for dinner, try this spicy fruited version of an old favorite.

Crushed cereal flakes lend their own nutlike flavor. Ground cloves and aromatic cinnamon bring to it a breath of spiciness. Condensed cream of mushroom soup is added, too. And the loaf is topped with fruit slices in a glaze of butter and brown sugar.

Flavor? More than you would ever dream any meat loaf could have. It looks dressed up, too, turned out on the platter. This is the way the loaf is made:

2 tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons brown sugar
3 slices canned pineapple, halved

Melt butter in a loaf pan and add brown sugar. Arrange halved pineapple rings in the sugar and butter mixture.

1 pound lean smoked ham, ground
½ pound veal, ground
1½ cups corn flakes, crushed
1 tablespoon brown sugar
¼ teaspoon ground cloves
¼ teaspoon ground cinnamon
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 can condensed cream of mushroom soup
2 eggs, beaten

Mix meats, cornflake crumbs, sugar, spices, lemon juice, the cream of mushroom soup and eggs. Spread over pineapple in the loaf pan and press down. Bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) for about 1 hour. Turn meat loaf out on a hot platter with pineapple rings on top.

SCHOOL DAY LUNCH is an important meal

—it must provide energy for the afternoon as well as something to "grow on"

by Dorothy Greig

Chicken Noodle Soup, hot and energizing, makes a stout beginning for Monday's lunch for the youngsters.

ONE thing we have certainly had brought home to us in the past several years is the necessity of providing school children with hot substantial lunches.

Served a hot lunch every day, youngsters fairly bloom.

They grow bigger and stronger, faster. Little Johnny with a good hot lunch tucked under his belt is not dull and slow in his afternoon classes, but quick and bright, and interested.

Hot food is the answer. Hot food that is highly nourishing, yet quick and easy to digest. All children need this type of noon day meal whether they eat it at school or at home. For instance, here are lunches for a school week that fill this need for hot food. They are simple and easy to prepare too:

Monday
Chicken Noodle Soup
Toasted Cheese Sandwich on Wholewheat Bread
Carrot Sticks
Baked Apple — Milk

Tuesday
Spanish Rice with Crisp Bacon*
Bread and Butter
Tapioca Pudding — Chocolate Milk

Wednesday
Cream of Tomato Soup (add equal quantity of milk to condensed tomato soup)
Poached Egg on Toast
Mixed Fruit Salad — Milk

Thursday
Casserole of Macaroni and Cheese
Vegetables in Tomato Jelly*
Sliced Orange — Milk

Friday
Vegetable Soup—Peasant Style
Toasted Cracker
Apple Sauce — Milk

Spanish Rice with Crisp Bacon

4 slices bacon
1 cup rice
1 can condensed consommé
1 can (14 oz.) tomato juice
½ teaspoon salt
pinch of pepper
2 tablespoons chopped onion
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper

Cook the bacon until crisp, take bacon and 1 tablespoon of bacon drippings from pan. Add rice to the remaining bacon drippings. Add hot consommé, tomato juice, salt and pepper. Cover and simmer for 35-45 minutes, until rice is cooked and all liquid absorbed. In the meantime cook the chopped onion and green pepper in the 1 tablespoon of bacon drippings taken from pan at beginning. Chop the crisp bacon. Mix bacon, onion, green pepper and cooked rice together, being careful not to mash the rice. Serve hot. Serves 5.

*Vegetables in Tomato Jelly

1 package lemon flavored gelatine
1 can (14 oz.) tomato juice
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1½ cups chopped cabbage
1 cup shredded carrots
salad dressing

Heat the tomato juice and pour hot juice over the lemon flavored gelatine dessert. Chill until it just begins to stiffen, then add lemon juice, chopped cabbage and shredded carrots. Pour into a mold and chill until firm. Turn out on crisp greens and serve salad dressing with each serving of "Vegetables in Tomato Jelly." Serves 6-8.

How He Knew

A squad of recruits were out with an officer who was putting them through an observation test. Coming to the top of a hill the officer pointed to a distant party of soldiers. "Private Smith," he said to one of his squad, "how many men are in the digging party in that field?" The party was so far away that they only looked like tiny dots, but Smith replied unhesitatingly: "Sixteen men and a sergeant, sir!" The officer put his field glasses to his eyes, and counted them. "That's quite right," he said, "but how did you know there was a sergeant there?" "He's the one not digging, sir," replied Smith.

Indelible Ink Marks

Equal parts of ammonia and turpentine will remove indelible ink marks.

Trend of Skiing Popularity

A good idea of the increase in popularity of skiing as a week-end sport is furnished in statistics of the Canadian Pacific railway. The railroad's first special ski train, inaugurated in 1923, carried less than 100 enthusiasts. In the 1940 season more than 145,000 skiers took advantage of the services.

State, not Federal

Contrary to the general belief the states in the union pass the laws about the U. S. flag, and not the federal government. It is against a state law to abuse, or desecrate the flag of the United States, but it is not against the law, except in Massachusetts, to abuse the flag of a foreign nation.

Extra Room in Back

Every American automobile manufacturer, with one exception, now makes his motorcars with more space between the rear wheels than the front wheels to provide for extra room in the back seat, reports Collier's.

'Gold Plantation'
